Course code: PEF RAN 113		Course: English Language 2
Cycle: 1 st cycle	Year: 1 st	Semester: 2 nd	ECTS credits: 3
Status: obligatory course		Total number of class hours: 45
		Per week: 3 Lectures: 2 Exercises: 1	Per semester: 45 Lectures: 30 Exercises: 15
Lecturer(s)	Izela Habul-Šabanović, Ph.D., associate professor
Prerequisites:	Passed exam in English Language 1
Course goal(s):	The aim of this course is to revise and acquire new knowledge and skills in the domain of oral and written communication in English. Students will be introduced to basic grammatical forms and structures (e.g. parts of speech, word forms and their use, basic sentence structures, etc.), as well as vocabulary at the intermediate level of English, in order to enable them to better understand and independently analyze texts on general topics, as well as those in their profession, i.e. in the field of primary teacher education in particular. During the course, students will be put into situations in which they will be encouraged to express themselves spontaneously (in written or oral form), develop language skills of listening, reading, speaking, and writing, but also practice grammar and vocabulary. All this aims to prepare and train students for independent understanding and analyzing texts in the educational profession.
Course content:	The course consists of three interrelated units: (i) revision of English grammar at the level of word types (morphology) and the level of sentence structure (syntax), (ii) acquisition and development of vocabulary in general English and related to the profession, (iii) developing and improving basic language skills with the aim of training for independent oral and written communication in English. Teaching related to grammar revision will be based on the following thematic units: (1) Perfect verb tenses (Present Perfect Simple, Present Perfect Continuous, Past Perfect Simple, Past Perfect Continuous); (2) Comparison of Adjectives; (3) Modal Verbs; (4) Question Tags; (5) Word Order; (6) Basic sentence patterns. Within this course, students will read various texts, both from everyday life, culture and civilization of native speakers, and professional texts, i.e. texts in the field of education in general and primary teacher education. The aim is to develop students' understanding of written content, improve vocabulary and grammatical accuracy, and enable them to express themselves spontaneously and independently in English. During the classes, students will perform speaking and writing exercises and produce their own pieces of work in English (e.g. essays, abstracts, seminar papers, presentations, etc.). In addition to practicing grammatical

	forms and vocabulary through understanding written information, students will develop and practice all language skills and continue to be trained for spontaneous written or oral expression in English.
Course outcomes:	Students will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- revise and enhance previously acquired knowledge and skills in the English language;</li> <li>- further improve their writing and speaking skills in English in everyday situations and in the academic context;</li> <li>- understand the basic messages of written texts and audio/video materials on various topics;</li> <li>- summarize and present the content of authentic written or audio/video materials in English;</li> <li>- develop the competence to independently analyze various texts and interpret language contents;</li> <li>- express and argue their opinion on various topics using simple structures, and exchange information in English;</li> <li>- develop the skill of writing short texts on topics of personal interest or topics covered throughout the course;</li> <li>- navigate reference materials and sources (dictionaries, grammars, Internet, etc.) and acquire independent learning strategies;</li> <li>- adopt independent learning strategies;</li> <li>- adopt habits of lifelong self-education, independent learning, and use of the English language.</li> </ul>
Teaching methods:	The primary method of teaching is interactive teaching with active learning and engagement of all students and the application of modern technology in teaching English (multimedia and Internet). The focus is on interactive communication that takes place on several levels, e.g. teacher-student interaction, pair or group work (cooperative learning), and language learning in context, through certain communication situations, in order to acquire relevant language skills, i.e. speaking, listening, reading comprehension, and writing. The method of direct teaching (introduction of new teaching content, guided practice, comprehension check, and application of acquired knowledge and skills), the method of guided discovery through conversation and discussion, and independent learning will also be used.
